There he was informed by his attorney that a battery of news photographers would be awaiting his exit. the Presidential election.

Gene Tunney, retired heavy-weight champion, cabled from Italy to John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, that he is "anxious to help in every way possible to make" Gov. Smith the next President.

He recalled in his cablegram that before sailing for Europe he publicly committed himself for the Governor, and said that, while it will be impossible for him to return in time to work for Cov. Smitth, "if my name attached to any general committee will aid the cause you have my consent to use it."

HANDKERCHIEFS ASKED

"I am in very bad need of two handkerchiefs." Northcott told Lyons. The attorney granted the request and they later were used by him to cover his face as cameras awaiting his departure from the courtroom began to snap.

Northcott was shackled to Corp. Cruickshank and Constable Rigby of the Provincial police as he left the courtroom and immediately was rushed to a waiting automobile and whisked back to Oakalla.

Attorney Lyons today indicated that he will confer with J. McKinley Cameron, attorney for Mrs. Louiss Northcott who is held in jail at Calgary as an accomplice in one of the asserted murders. looking toward the possibility of returning the mother here for a joint extradition hearing.

Northcott had a cynical smile on his face during the brief court proceedings, but was noncommunicative, even to his attorney. Canadian officers refused to allow newspaper men to talk with him.

"It is awfully difficult to understand why the Republican party should have gone prohibition the way they have." Raskob said. Some very good Republican friends of mine have so defined the present Republican party."

administration, praising Herbert way for the approval of Gov. Young by tonight.

Extradition papers seeking the return of Northcott and his mother, Mrs. Louisa Northcott, were dispatched from Riverside yesterday and should be in the Governor's hands this evening. Both Dist. Atty. Ford of Riverside county and Dey. Dist. Atty. Thoms expressed the belief that both sets of extradition papers will be approved by Gov. Young and forwarded at once to Washington.

In their action, the local authorities declared they seek Northcott only for trial on the charge of murdering an unidentified youth whose decapitated body was found near Puente last February. Northcott is under indictment in Riverside county on four counts of murder, including the John Doe true bill, and one satutory charge. Mrs. Northcott faces but one murder, the cott faces but one murder, the cott faces but one murder charge. Los Angeles county will be associated in the trial of the case.

It was learned here yeaterday that the Board of Supervisors will be requested by Capt. Bright and Chemist Abernathy to establish a department of criminology as a result of difficulties met in analyzing evidence found in the Northcott case. Authorities say that neither city nor county is equipped, authorized or budgeted for such analytical work.

The platform contained no mention of prohibition but said "We stand for law enforcement."

general news release today omitted any estimate as of July 1, 1928, for Los Angeles and simply reported the 1920 figures of $76,673. At the same time it gave the estimated population of San Francisco as of July 1, 1928, as $85,300. an increase of about 80,000 over its population as shown by the census of 1920, which gave that city 506,676.

Asked why no estimate was made for Los Angeles the census officials declared the tremendous growth of Los Angeles since 1920 made it absolutely impossible for the officials to even hazard a guess at the present population.

Another compalaint is made at the long-delayed manufacturers' census as of 1925, which should have been published some months ago. Unofficial figures indicate that Los Angeles has made a growth in manufactures comparable to that in population and has probably jumped several notches in the industrial table of the country's big cities. Various reasons have been offered by census officials for the long delay in releasing these important commercial figures.

Texas Tubercular Convicts Burn Two Buildings But None Can Escape

HUNTSVILLE (Tex.) Oct. 2. (P) Tubercular prisoners set fire to the building in which they were used at the Wynne State prison rm today. The flames spread and to structures and the water tank are destroyed. None of the pris-prisoners have resorted to incendiarism recently.

Capt. Spates, prison farm manager, said the tubercular convicts started the fire by stuffing paper in the walls of the building in which they were housed and setting fire to it. The building, a frame structure, burned rapidly, the flamest spreading to the hospital, the laundry, the power plant and the water tower.

As the fire undermined the water tower, the tank crashed to the ground, and fire fighters were helpless to combat the flames without water. Soon the building in which blind convicts were kept caught fire, and these prisoners, with the others, firty-six in all, were herded together in the yard, about ten guards watching them. The building for the blind still is burning late today.

THERE are, in every sphere, in every walk of life, personalities which through sheer dominance establish their names above those of the crowd. It is fitting that these personalities should be associated closely. Such an association is admirably expressed by Maria Jeritza in her statement.

"When first I heard it, I was startled, so humanly eloquent was it. In its warm, rich tone I seemed to hear myself singing. And soon I was singing. But I did not sing alone. The voice of the Knabe rose with my own and blended into it. My solo was a duet—and our duet

"Since then the Knabe has been my closest musical companion. It sings with me in my home in Vienna, and in my home in New York. It appears with me on the Metropolitan stage, and on the concert platform. And whatever I sing, the Knabe expresses the emotion in my heart with a delicacy that defines every subtle shade of feeling.

"MY White Leghorn flock, averaging 929 hens, produced 111,009 eggs the first six months of 1928, an average per hen of 119.4 eggs. Receipts from eggs were $2631.21. My total expense, including feed, was $953.01, leaving me a profit of $1,678.20, or $1.80 per hen. This was an average profit of about $280 per month. My flock is still producing at this rate.

Thought from the Fontana Farms Company after careful consideration. I was in poor health then. Today I am well and strong. I had been a traveling salesman and organizer for a large drug firm. I knew little about poultry, but by applying business principles I have found egg production very profitable here. I believe Fontana offers a real opportunity to the energetic, intelligent man who wants to go into the poultry business. I am here to stay."

Mr. Hill's record is exceptional, but he has accomplished it through careful study of his business, good management, accurate bookkeeping and work. Is there any reason why YOU could not do well at Fontana in the poultry business?

At Fontana you can stock your place with hens of the world's champion egg-laying strain; you receive the free guidance of our staff of advisors, you profit by buying feed at wholesale cost, and your eggs, meat fowls and rabbits are picked up by the co-operative association's truck when desired. What the Olympic Games, to be conducted in Los Angeles in 1932, mean to this city and the Pacific Coast was stressed yesterday by Murray Hulbert, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Eks, when he made the principal address at the weekly luncheon and meeting of the Los Angeles Advertising Club at the Biltmore.

Speaking on "Fraternalism, Athletics and the Olympic Games; Their Value to the Community," Mr. Hulbert, whose present tour of the country primarily is in the interests of Elkdom, emphasized his connections with athletics and explained the functions of the Olympic Games' organization and its subsidiaries. He praised Mr. Garland as the emissary of this city in its bid for the 1932 games and credited him with being largely responsible for the selection of Los Angeles for the sames.

Carland told of his efforts during the past eight years in obtaining the games for Los Angeles and appealed for support of the voters in behalf of the measure on the ballot next November appropriating funds for the games.

Chairman of Council on Visit Here to Aid Drive for Success in November

Whenever California can get two to one for its money the proposition is a good investment, according to Duncan McDuffie of Berkeley, chairman of the State Parks Council, who was in Los Angeles yesterday conferring with Henry W. O'Melveney, James R. Martin and other Southern California leaders in the campaign for the $6,000,000 State park bond issue, which is to appear on the November ballot. Under the provisions of the State

Earth and Air Travel Speeds Reunion Here

Nearly all possible modes of travel have been utilized by the six children of Mr. and Mrs. John Schneider of 1406 Martel avenue, to assure their presence at the golden wedding celebration of their parents, who were married fifty years ago today in Chicago.

Herbert Schneider, a son, arrived late yesterday from Phoenix by atrplane. Another son, Ray Schneider, motored here from Chicago with his wife. Two daughters, Mrs. Charles Natalby of Chicago, and Mrs. Edward Moriarty of Milwaukee, relied on the railroads to get them here. The other two children of the couple, Mrs. Frank Boenig and Mrs. Edward S. La Bart, live, respectively, in Beverly Hills and Los Angeles.

Mr. Schneider, who is a retired merchant, came here with his wife ten years ago from Chicago. They are both enjoying exceptionally good health, which fact they ascribe to the beneficent influence of the Southern California climate.

Searching of Foreign Market for Higher Coupon Issues Under Way; Trend is Changing

American investment bankers are producing a satisfactory volume of new financing even though the price of capital in this country is not at attractive levels. Pacific Coast Terminals Limited

First Mortgage

6½% Twenty Year Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

From the letter of A. C. Flumerfelt, Esq., President of the Company, we summarize as follows:

There is a great need for new terminal facilities on the Vancouver Peninsula which has a post 250,000 and, with the exception of Prince Kupert, 500 miles to the north, is the only post Canadian Pacific slope where rail and water meet. On this peninsula, in the City of New Wadjacent to the City of Vancouver, Pacific Coast Terminals Limited owns 784,080 sq. ft. of a located water front property. On this property this Company is constructing a modern freig which will afford cold and dry storage and wharf facilities for the Canadian National Railway Pacific Railway Company, Great Northern Railway Company and the British Columbia Elect Company, Ltd. All these railroads have agreed to serve the terminal.

Company, Ltd. All these railroads have agreed to serve the terminal.

This new terminal, which is on the north bank of the Fraser River, will afford a m for the products of the rich Fraser River Valley and the provinces of Western Canadi the only adequate tidewater terminal facilities in British Columbia on the tracks of the Canadian National Railways (except those at Prince Rupert) and of the Great North pany. Among the principal commodities which the terminal expects to handle are peanuts, canned and salt fish, pulp, paper, vegetables, fruit, eggs, butter and general of the Canadian Railways (except those at Prince Rupert) and of the Great North pany.

The Company enjoys a large measure of public support. The Government of the Dominion of Canada, under the terms of its Cold Storage Act, is giving the Company $270,000 to be used in the construction of its cold storage plant, and the Province of British Columbia and the City of New Westminster each have guaranteed to the Company an annual storage revenue of $30,000 for a period of ten years.

The strength of the Company's management is evidenced by the fact that its Board of Directors will include men who have a direct interest in the welfare of the Company and who are prominently identified with the following:

Canadian National Railways, Great Northern Railway Companys Kettle Valley Railway Companys (Canadian Pacific System) Province of British Columbia City of New Westminster, Northern Construction Company Ltd., Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company Ltd., Canadian Bank of Commerce, British Columbia Fishing & Packing Company Ltd., Canadian American Trading Company Ltd., International Coal & Coke Company Ltd.

These bonds are the direct obligation of Pacific Coast Terminals Limited and are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a specific first mortgage on all the physical assets of the Company and a floating charge over the remaining assets and undertaking of the Company. These physical assets, consisting of land, buildings, machinery and equipment, have been appraised as a completed going concern by Messrs. Macaulay, Nicholls, Maitland & Co. Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C., at a total of $2,750,000. Accordingly, the $1,500,000 outstanding First Mortgage Bonds represent a loan equivalent to only 54% of the appraised value of the assets against which they are a first lien. Additional bonds may be issued only under conservative restrictions. only under conservative restrictions.

It has been conservatively estimated that when these terminal properties have reached a normal operating condition their annual net earnings will be equivalent to 2.76 times the annual interest requirements of these bonds. It is expected that construction will be completed by July, 1929.

Upon completion of the present financing there will be impounded with the Trustee funds for the payament of interest on these bonds to and including February 1, 1930—seven months beyond the expected date of completion. Moreover, through contracts and guarantees already obtained, and from income from recently acquired terminal properties already in operation, the Company is virtually assured of net earns ings in excess of First Mortgage Bond interest charges from the date of completion of the development

Are You Losing Interest on idle funds?

Consider these 2 Points

Some investors are withholding against the loss of interest and the investment of funds awaiting the possibilities of lower prices.

(1) Such a policy may prove unwise because it is usually found that fluctuations in the bond market over short periods are not wide enough to justify the loss of interest on the idle funds.

(2) This risk may be avoided. Investors may protect themselves still keep their funds in a liquid condition by investing in any of a specal list of nine securities which we have carefully selected.

These securities offer marketability, comparative freedom from price fluctuations and generous yields-from 6% to 7%.

Distribution of Airplanes

We own the LOCKHEED distribu-ting franchise for the 5 Pacific Coast States, under a favorable contract from the factory that guarantees our quota of planes to sell each month.

We have the same kind of a fran-chise on the CURTISS plane for all Southern California.

That gives us the best airplane terri-tory in the country and the two best ships in the field to sell.

In addition to this we have a wonderful site for a flying field out on Mesa Drive already leased where we will not only demonstrate and sell airplanes and render service to owners but we will be very active in the development of commercial aviation—sponsored passenger flights, special trips etc. Our school of instruction will teach flying. All of these activities will pay a profit.

We will have a functioning organization in the principal cities of the Pacific Coast in contemplation of a series of Sperl Flying fields, and complete Sperl service throughout the territory. It is our aim to make the Harry Sperl Aero Corporation an outstanding leader in this new

of my oil production from my Well No. 1, on my 5-acre tract at Santa Fe Springs, will be paid into one of our California Trust Companies every 30 days, and immediately disbursed pro rata to the holders of the 1850 units that I am offering at $100 each.

My offer on Well No. 2 is an exact duplicate of Well No. 1, but inasmuch as Well No. 1 will be the first away to the deep sand it is a more desirable bet right now.

The units in Well No. 1 are being rapidly subscribed for, so if it is your desire to play this one, I would strongly advise the immediate placing of your order.

I don't wish to leave the impression in your mind that I am in the habit of making extravagant statements, but I cannot help but say that I firmly believe that every $100 you invest with me on either or both of my wells, will bring you a monthly return of at least $50.00. Of course, this kind of a monthly return is bound to diminish after the first 8 to 10 months, but even in ten years from now your investment should show you wholesome returns.

Either mail your check for the amount you wish to invest, or run in to my offices and meet me personally, and if you are the least bit in doubt I feel that I can readily convince you that my offering is indeed a rare opportunity for a quick winning from a very small investment.

City's Oldest Women's Organization to Have Luncheon Today on Fortieth Anniversary

The Ruskin Art Club of Los Angeles, the oldest women's organiza-tion in the city, has, in honor of its fortieth birthday, decided to cele-brate with a luncheon in its new and modern club home at Eighth and in the cultural development of Southern California since its establishment. During its second year of existence it establishmed itself in the original Hanna College building near Fifth and Olive streets, on the eite now occupied by the Public Library. Later more elaborate quarters were obtained in the Blanchard Building on Broadway.

Serious art study was taken up by club members from the first. Art leaders of the day answered the appeal of the organization and the club became a beacon for etchers, painters, engravers and sculptors.

An art exhibit in 1890 was a marked success. The exhibit made by the Society of American Wood Engravers at the Paris Exposition in 1898 was transported en masse, and the show, given at the Crocker Building at 218 South Broadway, was nationally recognized as one of the most notable of the year.

A CADEMIC PREEDOM?

A Announcement of the dean of the University of Texas and of the District Attorney at Austin that there is to be Atjorney at Austin that there is to be no action taken regarding the death of a student during a fraternity initiation reveals a rather strange conception of the seniousness of the situation. Granting that the death was the result of what was intended to be merely horseplay, it is clear that at the very least there should be some precautions taken to prevent similar occurrences in the future. Experience has led the various secret societies to which adults belong to adopt strict rules to prevent physical injury to their initiates, and the college societies should unquestionably be required to do likewise. Hazing and ordeals of the nature to which this student was subjected are relics of barbarism, decidedly out of blace in this age of the world.

The intelligent participation of citi-

The intelligent participation of citizens in representative government consists, for the most part, in voting. To vote they must register. Registration, therefore, is equally a vital obligation.

Virtually every constructive agency in the nation, without regard to partisan affiliation or personal political preferment, is engaged in a final drive for a maximum registration of American voters. It is hoped that this intensive effort will result next month in a representative determination of the issues in the epochal national election.

It seems probable that the citizen who has not yet registered needs little more than a reminder that the time for registering is about to expire. In fact, the registration to date indicates an unprecedented number of names on the great registers of all the States of the Union. A relatively small minority of unregistrated divisors are a second of the contraction of the contraction of the states of the Union.

registers of all the States of the Union. A relatively small minority of unregistered citizens remains, but they represent in the aggregate a sufficiently large element of the population to justify the utmost energy in securing the addition of their names to the total.

Registration for the November election will close next Saturday. Under the law the time may not be extended.

the time may not be extended.

Nowhere in the country has greater attention been paid than in Los Angeles city and county to the subject of efficient registration; deputy registrars have been posted at convenient places and County Registrar of Voters Kerr has a staff of registrars available for special service to large and small groups. His office may be reached by telephone, MUtual 9211.

It is improbable that any other public or private obligation has been made easier than the function of qualifying for participation in governmental affairs. Persons having legitimate grounds easier than the function of qualifying for participation in governmental affairs. Persons having legitimate grounds for making such request, may have a deputy registrar call at their residence.

Aside from the partisan politics and the personal prejudices involved in the general election there are national, State and local issues which need the thoughtful and concerted attention of the entire electronic. In this State, which depends ful and concerted attention of the entire electorate. In this State, which depends upon Republican tariff schedules for the prosperity of its people and which has offered a Republican candidate for President to the nation, an unusually vigorous drive is being made in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

This fact in itself has spurred the Republicans and Democrats alike to make an unusually energetic appeal for regis-

It cannot be too emphatically pointed out that no one who has not registered before October 6 can vote at the national election November 6. In the past it has been characteristic of a certain type of been characteristic of a certain type of easy-going citizen to defer until too late his primary duty to register and to that failure is traceable a large part of the lack of representation of our adult citizenry at the polls.

There were 54,421,832 qualified voters in the country in 1920. Of these but 26,674,171 exercised their elective franchise. Nor could it be blamed on an off year; for it was a Presidential election. More than half of the voters were slackers.

A careful poll of them would likely show that the unregistered and the stay-at-homes were largely among the more favored folks. They are to all intents favored folks. They are to all intents good law-abiding citizens; but are careless of their civic repsonsibilities. They imagine their votes will hardly be missed. They are asleep at the switch. They are beneficiaries of prosperity, yet contribute nothing to its upkeep. They eat the fruits of success; but do not bother to guard against enemies of the orchard. On the other hand all the self-seekers and political spullers yout early, and as and political spoilers vote early, and as often as they can. They revel in ballots. The way to good government is through the ballot box. The way to the ballot box—and the only way—is through registration on or before Saturday, Octo-

Today at Hollywood Cemetery final honors will be paid to one of the most gifted and best loved of Los Angeles citizens, Fred W. Blanchard. The beautiful plot of consecrated ground, hallowed to the memory of so many of those most intimately connected with the intimately connected with the progress of the Southwest, has been the scene of many sad and impressive ceremonies, but few of these have been so fraught with feeling as to touch the hearts of so great a multitude of admirers. The monument to this unselfish worker for higher civic ideals will not be con-fined to the burial ground where other Los Angeles pioneers sleep the sleep eternal. Nor will the flowers laid above a cypress-covered grave be the last trib-ute his memory will receive. Flowers that never perish are growing in the homes and institutions of the city he served for forty-two years devoted to its artistic betterment, and these are im-martal as the spirit that sowed the seed.

Names pass away in the rush of the years hurrying along newer eras under the direction of younger hands and brains. Obelisks and grave stones tell little to a coming generation of the one that these loving devices would save from oblivion. It will not be long before those at heared in the cometers today will like gathered in the cemetery today will, like the leader they mourn, solve the last long problem of human destiny.

But the efforts of such lovers of their race and city as the man who was but yesterday a leading force in our civic and artistic life are beyond the touch of death or the taint of mortality. The work of Fred W. Blanchard will live as long as the Civic Center he took so large a part in planning. Not in the Holly-wood Cemetery, but in America's noblest City Hall he has reared his most lasting monument. When the Hollywood Bowl vibrates with its starlight symphonies BY lee Shippey

Oscar Rasbach is a small-town music teacher. Now and then, when he feels really inspired—and his two bables don't demand his attention—he composes, too. Though his published compositions are few in number their exceptional excellence has made them stand out, and not only Schumann-Heinck, but Sara Teasdale, John Masefield, Montague Glass and other famous people think him quite a fellow in his line. And so his home town of Sierra Madre is immensely proud of him.

That spirit is one which many other towns in Southern California well might emulate. Nearly every one of the lovely suburbs of Los Angeles contains its genius or geniuses in some line or other, but it is a lamentable fact that, in spite of our great State pride, many of them are better known in New York than they are at home.

BORAH MAKES A POINT
Senator Borah, in his speech at Minneapolis, completely removed any effect the previous speech of Gov. Smith at St. Paul may have had by demonstrating that, if Hoover is to be judged because he sat in the same Cabinet with Fall, Denby and Daugherty, Smith himself is even more to be judged by his complete identification with Tammany Hall. The logic which would impute to Hoover any blame for the oil scandal applies even more forcefully to Smith.

In his July 4 speech at the old Tam-many wigwam in Fourteenth street, Smith declared: "I take no orders from Tammany Hall; I give orders to Tam-many Hall."

But it is not on record that Smith gave any orders, in 1926, to stop Tammany officials from collecting graft from the milk companies and permitting them to sell adulterated milk in New York City; that he gave any orders in 1927 to stop the Queens sewer scandal; or that he gave any orders in 1928 to stop the padding of pay rolls in the New York streetcleaning department—a practice, it was testified, which had been going on for thirty years.

Smith accuses Hoover of sitting silent when the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil leases were made. Smith has sat silent for a generation while the organization which he now boasts he heads plundered his native city, and, on opportunity, his native State. Smith was minority leader of the New York Assembly during the administration of Gov. Dix—an administration so scandalous that the very Democrats of the State rebelled and refused Dix a renomination; but Smith made no protest. When Gov. Sulzer, Dix's succes sor, tried to correct conditions Smith was Speaker of that Assembly and aided Boss Murphy in Sulzer's impeachment and re-

Smith declares that a man must be judged by his associations. Very well: the Republican party is content with such a situation. Hoover can stand such a test far better than Smith.

CALL FOR HELP The cry for help from Florida is the massed voice of the living. The fact that there were more than 2000 dead nakes the needs of the living all the more imperative. In a great many cases the breadwinner of the home was killed and there are helpless children surviving. The tragedy is so broad and over-whelming that Florida cannot cope with the situation or meet the demands of the moment. All America must help.

PAROLING LOEB-LEOPOLD

The Illinois official who bursts forth with the asserted information that Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., slayers of Bobble Franks, might, under certain circumstances, be eligible for parole in seven more, years, probably is seeking some personal publicity. No man of common sense would even talk of paroling this precious pair, who are alive only through a miscarriage of justice; they should have been hanged long since.

The reason why the possibility of parole should not even be mentioned is that every such mention creates misunderstanding. The public, misled by glaring headlines, is likely to believe that such a parole is imminent, and be fired with indignation for which there is no real, or present, occasion. Such misunderstandings create a disrespect for law, not the less genuine because it has no basis.

No man can prophesy, of course, what the Illinois parole board may or may not do seven years hence. It can be said, however, that if the board then does its duty it will not grant a parole, even if the slayers shall be found legally eligible. Nor will any other parole board at any time grant such a parole. GOING TO CHURCH

The friend from Missour, mentioned that he liked his preaching along old-fashioned lines—something about service and sacrifice and the gospel of good will. He didn't care much about a sizzling hell or an austere and exacting almighty, but he would like to learn how to do the good Samaritan stuff and to love his neighbor as himself.

So we looked over the pages carrying the church announcements. We thought maybe we could find where some preacher would talk in an inspirational way about the golden rule or the inheritance of the meek. It is quite likely that sermons in Mostly the preachers seemed to be talking about politics and crime. There isn't much difference, of course, but a modern pastor can flit from the voting booth to the criminal court with the insouciant ease of a sparrow. We noted that one drator would speak on "Where Religion and Politics Meet." We didn't have sense enough to go there, or we might have learned something. Most of them weren't so academic.

Mr. Cravath reports the Oregon boys looked tough. Mr. Taafe tinces no words and says he knows they are. In fact Mr. Taafe goes further and declares they are twice as good as they were last

With this evidence in it appears that the local sympathizers might just as well start shedding a few tears for U.S.C. without waiting until Saturday nightfall.

ERRORS BEAT THEM

THE score last year was 13 to 12 in U.S.C.'s favor and Oregon State would have won but for a pair of dropped forward passes on the Trojan goal line and a brain storm by its quarterback who fumbled on his own goal line and presented the Trojans with a touchdown.

Mr. Taafe is quite frank in saying that Oregon State has been waiting patiently twelve months to avenge the sting of last year's defeat. The score was painted in the boys' dressing-rooms at Oorvallis and has been staring them in the face ever since last fall.

They have pointed for this year's game with U.S.C. with a vengence. Mr. Taafe says only two games on the Staters' schedule matter this year. One is the U.S.C. game, the other the New York U. game at New York, November 23. But above all else Oregon wants to lick U.S.C.

The Staters feel they can lose all the remaining games on their

The Staters feel they can lose all the remaining games on their Pacific Coast schedule and still have a successful season if they beat U.S.C. And if they beat U.S.C. they expect to lick everybody else.

A VETERAN TEAM

A ND with virtually the same veteran team that gave the Trojans such a tussic last year the Staters appear to have a pregame edge with Drury, Elliott, Heiser and Scheving gone from the gang that nosed

And Oregon was defeated on a hot day last year. The weather was not to the northwesterners' liking. Who knows but they may strike cool weather this year?

They have two new men in the backfield this year—Hughes, an Hawalian, and Thompson, an Indian chief. Both are sophomores, both good line plungers and both great kickers. Hughes is a rarity in that he boots as well barefooted as with shoes.

Thompson has been coming so fast, according to Taafe, that he has just about elinehed the fullback berth over Gilmore, last year's fixture.

TOO MUCH SPEED

THE easy victory of Jackie Fields over Young Jack Thompson vindicates the judgment of the Hudkins boys that the dark scrapper, in spite of his knockout of Joe Dundee, the welterweight king, would not be hard for the local Jewish flash to take.

Thompson's heart is not the biggest in the world, and an op-ent with fast feet and a rattle of punches can throw him off de easily. Apparently that is what happened at San Francisco

TOUGH FOR YANKS

IF THE Cards aren't favorites when the world series starts tomorrow it will be simply because the boys who bet their dough have faith in the big stick of Babe Ruth.

With Centerfielder Combs in poor shape, one or two infielders on the edge and the pitchers doubtful, the Yanks certainly seem to have no edge over the Cards, who finished the National League in rare condition—their pitchers going great guns and without an injury in the

YANKS MEASURE MELON CUTS

NEW YORK. Oct. 2. (P)—The Yankees today decided what they will do with the money they will receive for the first four games. All the regulars, including the incapacitated Wilcy Moore, Fred Heimach and Tom Zachary, who joined the cast in midand Helmach and Tom Zachary, who joined the cast in mig-son, were voted a full share as were two coaches, Arthur techer and Charlie O'Leary. NIXON PUTS POMONA TEAM THROUGH TOUGH WORKOUT

Even the darkest clouds have some silver, however, for the absence of some of the regulars has brought to light some potentially good linemen who might otherwise have never been noticed. Eddie Hanson, the lanky Swede who has been chugging along in a more or less desultory fashion at right tackle, has been given a first-string chance and has shown up as well as any forward on the field.

Tonight's scrimmage was directed more toward polishing up the many rough spots that appeared in Pomona's offensive against La Verne last week. The boys looked pretty bad on a good many of Nixon's pet plays, and he drilled them overtime against Earl Merritt's willing freshmen. It will still be a matter of more than a week before the Sagehen mentor brings out his dynamite, and if the blue gridders don't learn his fundamental plays pretty soon, he never will.

JOE ANDERSON WINS OVER HUDKINS IN OLYMPIC RING

McKowen. Harvey Hicks, the other Judge, voted for Hudkins.

Throughout the battle Anderson kept an inquisitive left playing in Hulkins's face and it was this stabbing weapon that piled up a big majority of points although at close range Anderson ripped and tore to the body with the same telling effect as Hudkins.

The Wildcat showed the effects of a three months lay-off since the Walker battle in Chicago and missed the range time and again.

In only one round—the third—did Hudkins look the vicious, terrific slasher that took the measure of Sergt. Sammy Baker in that memorable bloody battle at Wrigley Field a year ago last summer.

In this session Hudkins staggered Anderson on three separate occasions with terrific lefts and rights to the head. He was the relentless, surging Wildcat of old who came charging to battle with nostrils bared after being outpointed badly in the early part of the round.

SURVIVED WALLOPS Boom, boom, went the Hudkins gloves. Anderson's head sagged. Boom, boom, and the head sagged again. And once again.

But Anderson survived those wallops, took it easy the next round until his strength returned and them went out to win four of the next six rounds.

nating 180's pounds, while Anderson was above the figure. Joe scaled 189 1-4 pounds in the afternoon and 161% at night. Anderson forfeits $500 if the Hudkinses demand it, and it was said last night that inasmuch as the Wildcat lost it would be claimed.

as the Wildcat lost it would be claimed.

The bout was cheered wildly all along the line, particularly in Hudkins's big round—the third—and Anderson's best—the seventh—when Anderson whipped terrific rights to the face.

The capacity house turned approximately $30,000 into the coffers of Fromoter Jack Doyle.

The preliminaries were only fair and completely overshadowed by the sensational wind-up. The results follow:

Paul DeHate won from Billy Blake, six rounds.

Billy Atkinson won from Bobby Near, four rounds.

JOHNSON STOPS LOWE Harry Johnson knocked out Connor Love in the first round. Both were colored brothers and the bout was a queer one. Lowe was floored three times. but only the finishing blow—a bounce on the button—had the semblance of a punishing punch about it. Lowe looked as badly hurt when he sat down in the resin after missing a swing as when he was upset the first two times.
In the first preliminary Joe Noto defeated Tommy Cleary in four

conditioning of the sister 27,000-ton liners Manchuria and Mongolia, which have been purchased by the Dollar Steamship Line from the Panama-Pacific Line, present operators, for conversion to "standby" ships for trans-Pacific and around-the-world trade, was announced yesterday by Capt. Larry H. Westdanl, operating manager of the Dollar Line.

The Manchuria, which sailed from San Pedro last Monday on her farewell voyage under the Panama-Pacific flag, will be turned over to the Dollar Line at New York as soon as she discharges her present cargo and passengers, Capt. Westdahl said. She will immediately be reconditioned at a cost of approximately $1,500,000, probably in a San Francisco shipyard, and the same program will be followed when the Mongolia is turned over early in 1929.

Capt. Westdahl also announced that plans for construction of two twenty-knot turbo-electric liners which the Dollar Line will build, are nearing completion. They will be built under the government loan fund of the Jones-White Marine Act and will be of approximately 10,000 net tons register.

The Manchuria and Mongolia will thus return to trans-Pacific service after two decades in trans-Atlantic and coast-to-coast trade. The famous ships were built in 1904 at Camden, N. J., for the trans-Pacific run of the old Pacific Mail Line and after operating to the Orient for several years were sold to the International Mercantile Marine and placed in New York-North Europe service. Both entered Panama-Pacific service in 1924.

TRIO OF TANKERS

To fly Dutch flag

Transfer of the three Americanflag tankers Goldshell, Silvershell and Pearishell to Dutch registry, is contemplated by the Shell Oil Company in the near future, according to advices received from the East yesterday.

No reason was given officially, but it is understood the change is to permit cheaper operation of the vessels. Under Dutch and many other foreign marine laws, the wages and other standards, and requirements on nationality of crews are not so costly as those at present in force in America.

The vessels are 5600-ton sister ships, 411 feet long, and were built at Wilmington, Del., in 1920. They are sister ships of the Semiramis, Scopas and Silvanus, built at the Southwestern Shipyards, San Pedro, for the Royal Dutch Shell in 1922.
That yard now is a unit of the Bethlem Shipbuilding Corporation.

The Goldshell is due in San Pedro the 16th inst., and her transfer is expected to follow shortly.
The change is not believed to portend any diversion of the tankers from calling at this port.

The youngster headed off in this tactless fashion learns to keep his thoughts to himself or to seek knowledge elsewhere. The mother who has turned away the child who trusted his thoughts to her has opened a spiritual breach between herself and her child which will widen as the physical dependence, which is such a bond during the early years, gradually disappears, and companionship and understanding fall to take its place.

There are other parents, misguided and conscientious, who try to give all the facts of any subject about which the child expresses casual curiosity. The child who asks a question which sounds profound is not necessarily looking for a profound and exhaustive reply. Indeed such a reply confuses and bores him and is likely to dull the edge of his interest in the subject in the future.

Every question which the child asks in earnest should be told only the truth. The question must be understood from his point of view, and the answer should compans only so much information as he is really looking for and is able to digest. If, later, he returns to the same subject he will be ready to learn more.

There is no finer, truer bond between parents and child than that which has been established when Napoleon is said to have been a shy young man. Demosthenes, the greatest orator of ancient Greece, was in his youthful days hardly able to pronounce a word that could be understood. Theodore Roosevelt was handicapped by a delicate health and shyness. In fact, the list could be continued almost indefinitely. I believe that the majority of our greatest statesmen and thinkers have at some time in their lives overcome this deficiency.

The cultivation of humor is of particular value, since humor brings on a feeling of good fellowship and evokes the opposite feeling of that of inferiority. A feeling of physical filtness is a great help to self-mastery. You should map out a regular course of physical culture for yourself, and use a well-balanced diet such as is outlined in my weekly menus in the various newspapers, which will furnish you all the elements necessary to good health and yet not overburden your system with toxic material.

If you are shy in conversation, you may practice the art of conversation by carrying on any imaginary dialogue about the various topics in the privacy of your own room. In this way you will learn to use and become accustomed to the sound of your own voice. You should take an active part in the debates whenever possible. You should assume responsibilities whenever responsibilities are offered, and accept difficult tasks in preference to easy ones.

It is written so simply that a child can comprehend and apply its teachings, and yet it is so profound that the philosopher and scholar find its logic irefutable. It covers a wide range of pure metaphysics; it sets forth the tenets of a true religion which is capable of being lived and practiced every hour, under all circumstances and conditions. "This textbook not only sets forth Christ Jesus's method of the treatment of disease and sin, but, as its title indicates, it is a "Key to the Scriptures." This time it was a woman who was chosen to lead the modern children of Israel out of the chaotic darkness of materialism. "It was woman who was 'last at the cross and first at the sepulchre' of Jesus after his mighty demonstration. All through the centuries woman has filled an important place in the development of human history, so it was befitting the time and circumstances that God should choose, as His revelator to this age, a woman through whose pure and exalted consciousness came the truths which Jesus said we should know and which have literally set countless thousands free.

"Born of devout Christian parents, Mrs. Eddy became, even as a child, an earnest student of the Bible. After reaching womanhood, she experienced an accident which so seriously incapacitated her that her life was despaired of. In her extremity, she turned to her Bible and as she read of the cures performed by Jesus it dawned upon her that the same power which made possible the healing in that day is available to God's children now. The revelation was so clear and positive that she realized her freedom, arose and joined the members of her household, and thereafter enjoyed better health than before.

"Having demonstrated for herself that the healing principle was operative in her case, she set about to discover the definite rule which could be applied and proved by others. As the result of three years intensive study of the Bible, during which period she did little other reading and gave but little time to other pursuits, God revealed to her the 'truths' contained in 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' which is the textbook of Christian Science. WATER PACT WITH CITIES ON BALLOT

If Voters Indorse Action Council to Join Twelve Other Towns in Plan

The question on the November 6 general election ballot which asks the voters of Los Angeles for their approval to this city's joining with twelve other Southern California municipalities in the formation and participation in the Metropolitan Water District is to be designated Proposition B.

Metropositan water Districts

This action was taken by the City

It will appear at the bottom of the list of municipal propositions which are in the last column of the ballot.

The first twenty propositions are charter amendments and are designated 1-A, 2-A, etc. The other twelve cities are also voting on November 6 on the Metropolitan Water District proposition. If the cities vote to join the district, it will be organized, and then when the engineering plans for the Colorado River aqueduct are completed and costs apportioned, each city will ask its voters to authorize bond issues for the construction of the aqueduct, which is to bring Colorado River water to Southern California cities.
